Dedication

In a spirit of profound gratitude and sincere appreciation for her generous sharing with us of her wealth of knowledge, spontaneous wit and abiding interest in the finer things of life, we, the members of the MONELISON Staff, dedicate this permanent memento of our school life for the current session to MRS. NELLIE F. POWELL, ever willing to offer advice and render assistance to those confronted with problems and difficulties.

Foreword . . .

Between these covers lies Memory Lane, an oft-traveled highway, leading directly across the hills and vales of intervening years, to a place once dear to us, and now much more so, Madison Heights High School. To the casual observer, 1947-'48 may not have differed greatly from previous years, but upon us, the active participants, the academic program, the integrated activities and the efficient guidance of sincere and devoted teachers have left an indelible impression upon our hearts and lives which the passing of the years has served, not to dim but to deepen. To provide a permanent return ticket to Madison Heights High School, that we might relive each day and hour of that memorable '47-'48 session, we the staff of '48 presents the MONELISON.

SCHOOL BOARD

The social and economic processes of our country have been undergoing changes of a character which approaches revolutionary proportions. These changes have challenged the educational systems and have presented to them opportunities of leadership and inspiration. In Amherst County, we are fortunate in having a Division Superintendent and a School Board conscious of the magnitude of the task, capable of handling it properly, and able to assume the position of leadership among the divisions of the Commonwealth. We are indeed indebted to Mr. A. J. CAMDEN, Division Superintendent, and to MRS. BESS W. SHRADER, Chairman, MR. J. F. THOMAS, vice-chairman, MR. ASHBY WOODS, and MR. HERBERT J. CAMDEN, of the School Board.

Tyler Fulcher
Principal

One of the greatest privileges enjoyed by the members of the Class of '48 has been the association with our principal, Mr. Tyler Fulcher, whose ability and sincerity demand both the admiration and respect of his students. By his incessant and persistent efforts to elevate the standards of our High School, Mr. Fulcher has provided instruction, inspiration and encouragement to the youth of Elon District and, as is a prerequisite for any really successful teacher, stands himself a concrete example of a Christian gentleman worthy of being followed.

CLASS HISTORY

In September, nineteen hundred and forty-four, seventy-seven inexperienced but capable candidates tried out for the Team of Learning. There was a lot of crude, raw material in their midst, which, if properly trained, would gradually merit promotion to higher positions. The competent managers of this potentially strong team were Mrs. Powell, Mrs. McDermott, and Mrs. Kelley. From their fellow teammates, they chose as president, Darlene Burch; vice-president, Betty Mundy; secretary, Henry Robertson; treasurer, Edna Earle Cash. They elected as Student Representative, Fred Keller. Having willingly accepted the undisputed and oft-proved fact that no goal is achieved without hard work, dogged determination and rigid adherence to training rules, the candidates for the Team endeavored to prove their worth and ability in recognition of which they were transferred to more important and coveted positions.

In their Sophomore year, they had rightfully earned their position on the Junior Varsity Squad. Though still hampered by inexperience, they seemed to be turning out a fairly successful team. Some of the students who were unable to make the grade had to be left behind, but their places were immediately taken by replacements from Pleasant View, who proved to be an asset to the school in numerous ways. The managers were again changed, and Mrs. White and Miss McPherson persistently drilled them on the Fundamentals of Education. The players chosen to hold the responsible positions as officers were, president, Lillian Inge; vice-president, Betty Franklin; secretary, Jean Moss; and treasurer, June Dodd. Representatives were Darlene Burch and Betty Mundy.

Having cleared away the obstacles and taken the defeats along with the victories, which ultimately served to generate a fine competitive spirit, they were considered desirable enough material to understudy the widely-recognized Seniors and were now called Juniors. Their value to the team was increased, for soon they would no longer be substitutes but be the Varsity and entitled to berths on the first string. A banquet was given in their honor; class rings were received as awards of their success. Miss Buckner and Miss Skelton sponsored and trained them during this year. For leaders they chose as president, Lillian Inge; vice-president, Betty Ricketts; secretary, Betty Mundy; and treasurer, Henry Robertson.

They had met the requirements and abided by the rules of sportsmanship and were rewarded for their perseverance by being given their positions on first-team and were now called Seniors. Some of their teammates, though, had been unable to meet the standards and were consequently dropped from the Team, which possessed only sixty-three members now. This was not a cónsistently winning team, but each had worked hard to make it what it was. Lillian Inge, because of her ability to lead and influence fellow players, was elected, for the third consecutive year, president. Vice-president was Linwood Coleman; secretary, Henry Robertson; and treasurer, Peggy Bryant. Miss Mitchell and Mrs. Davis were sponsors of the Senior Class. Student representatives were Mary Anne Shelton, Marian Carpenter, Gerald Thomas and Glenn Ricketts. Mr. Fulcher coached the team through the entire four years of their training period. Numerous activities constituted highlights in their Senior year, including the Senior Play and the Junior-Senior banquet and Dance. But the beloved gymnasium and training field, commonly called M. H. H. S., had to be left behind, and each went to seek for himself positions on the Team of Life, there to exhibit the training, ability and playing experience gained under Coach Fulcher and his enthusiastic managers, the faculty.

CLASS PROPHECY

As we alighted from the great airliner, "Gravel Gertie," we were greeted by Cabell Doss, reporter for the Madison Heights Tribune which is edited by Raymond Peters. Jack Whitehead and Patsy Fuller, famed photographers, were on hand to supply the Tribune with pictures.

They were eager to get the story of our tour of the United States, and we had much to tell—

When we first boarded the plane, we discovered that the "Gravel Gertie" was being piloted by Aubrey Layne and Richard White, the famed 'round-the-world fliers. The stewardess on the airliner was Peggy Burleigh, who having become so discouraged by her fruitless efforts in the Senior Play has finally given up chasing men.

Upon our arrival in New York City, we were greeted by Jean Moss, first feminine mayor of New York City. It is said that Jean talked her way into office. She suggested a sight-seeing tour of the city and hailed a taxi, driven by Buddy Gowen, owner and driver of Gowen's Cab Co.

Our first stop was Music Hall where we greatly enjoyed a concert by Betty Pope, star singer of the Metropolitan, who favored us with the selection, "I Ain't Worried 'Bout Nothin,' " written and conducted by that great musician, Neil Baldwin. While here, we also heard Walter Hudson and his Monroe Mountaineers. His latest vocalist, Lois Freeman, was presenting her rendition of "Moonbeams," the nation's top tune of the day.

We next visited Abbitt's Department Store, the largest in the East, owned and managed by Marie Abbitt. While there, we attended a fashion show in which those outstanding models, Shirley Horton, Shirley Eggleston and Alice Hutcherson, modeled the latest fashions designed by the well-known stylist, Gertrude Chumbley.

Our next stop was Yankee Stadium where we saw a thrilling game between the New York Yankees and the Pleasant View Pirates. The Pirates won, of course!! It was their fourth straight victory, making them winners of the 1958 World Series. Their success was due to the sensational pitching of Landon and Ezra Humphrey. These nationally famous athletes received their basic instructions at our dear old Madison High.

The next place of interest on our journey was Niagara Falls. Oh, yes, there were two of our old classmates there on their honeymoon—Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Wood. Mrs. Wood is the former Jean Raikes; Maynard, the chatterbox of the class of '48, has just been made pastor of a small church in New Mexico. (He's still talking!) We also saw "Sonny" Robertson, an F.B.I. agent, who usually chases dangerous criminals but at that time was in a great hurry to catch the girl of his dreams, Betty Ricketts. However, he stopped long enough to inform us that Russell Davis, now Attorney-General, was recovering from an operation in John's Hopkins University, and that his doctor was the famous surgeon, Linwood Coleman, and his private nurses were Darlene Burch and Jean Stinnette.

From here we traveled to Chicago. We went to The Crystal Ball, a night club, owned by Barbara Layne who always was a great entertainer. While enjoying the floor show, we recognized several of the chorus girls as former students of our school. Among them were Bessie and Emma Martin, Hattie Sue Brizendine, and Ida Mae Coleman.

Our next step was Reno. We visited the office of Attorney Wade Henson who was busy securing a divorce for Jean Crews from her third husband. (Who could it be this time? Maybe Mr. Jasper.) Rebecca Brown, also a former student of Madison, is Attorney Henson's private secretary.

We dropped in at Lang's Latest Book Shoppe which is owned and managed by Mary Jane Lang. While looking over the books, we saw the most recent book, "How To Get And Keep A Man," written by Mary Ellen Hudson. Experience is a great teacher!

From Reno we traveled to Dallas, Texas, where we boarded a train, engineered by "Brother" Mayo and conducted by Glenn Ricketts. We rode to the end of the line—the city of Swallow Gap, and stopped in at Dodd's Ducky Dude Ranch. June Dodd, owner of the ranch, who has certainly changed since her high school days, was rounding up her cattle with the able assistance of Lorine Jordon and Barbara Wilkerson.

After we left Texas, we journeyed to Hollywood where some of our classmates have made great careers for themselves. We attended the premiere of "The Secret Of The Lost Letter," starring Ruth Davis and Richard Burleigh, great actress and actor of the Senior Play. This movie was produced and directed by Mildred Sandidge. Also attending the premiere were two popular society girls of Hollywood, Nancy Mays and Ilean Lipscomb.

From here, we went to San Francisco where we bumped into Myrtle Mayberry, prominent Senator from the state of Maryland, who was in that city campaigning for the forthcoming presidential election. She said she had just seen Marian Carpenter, newly appointed Ambassador to China, off on her voyage for that country. We also saw Lewis Rhodes and Wilfred Brown, who own a very prosperous business. They are undertakers. (Could they be associated with Surgeon Coleman?)

We then journeyed to Atlanta, Georgia, where we saw the crowning of "Miss America" of 1958. She is none other than Betty Franklin, another of our classmates. The judges of the contest were Harold Anderson, a very important and well-known banker, and Thomas Davis, the newly elected Governor of Georgia.

We went from Atlanta to Miami Beach, where we ran into two of our classmates who were vacationing. Ruth Campbell told us her husband was caring for their six children while she was away. Shirley Richardson, owner of a chain of "five and ten" stores, was taking a much needed rest from the problems of the business world.

Sweet Briar College was our last stop before embarking for home, the city of Madison Heights. We entered the assembly hall while Betty Mundy, the new president of that college, was making a speech. She can actually talk now! After the assembly program, we talked to Lillian Inge, teacher of Latin, and Marilyn Burch, teacher of Sociology.

Just as we concluded our story, we received an urgent message addressed to Mayor Gerald Thomas and Council Members, Peggy Bryant and Mary Anne Shelton, which requested our immediate attention to one of the numerous problems arising in the great metropolis of Madison Heights, now incorporated and possessing a population of 10,000,000. But before resuming our work, we silently uttered a prayer of thanks that our classmates were contributing as generously to the world as they had to our Alma Mater in the "good old days" of '48.

CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of Madison Heights High School for the year 1947-48, being weary and worn by so much work do hereby unselfishly bequeath what remains within our power to bestow upon our less fortunate successors. . .

ITEM I

To our beloved Alma Mater, we will:

1. A gym for the Physical Education classes and the future basketball teams.
2. A seventh period for club meetings only.
3. A set of new girls' basketball uniforms.
4. A student body that will use the trash cans instead of the floors.
5. A lunchroom with signal lights to prevent traffic jams.
6. A referee with whose decision everyone will agree.
7. A crew of supersonic building constructors to finish the new consolidated school by next term.
8. A new broom and dust pan to sweep up broken window glass.
9. Some one to take our faithful Mr. Emurian's place.
10. A soundproof music room, so the whole school won't be serenaded fifth period.

ITEM II

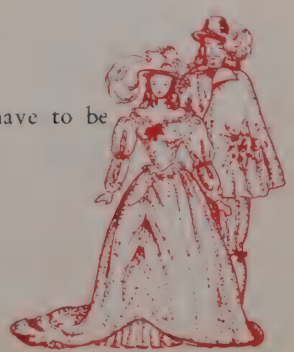
To our beloved Faculty, we will:

1. To Mr. Fulcher, a new office floor, the old one being well worn by the ceaseless traffic in and out and a separate door for the students to make a quick exit when they are expelled.
2. To Mrs. Davis, a Senior Class that will leave on the proper bell.
3. To Miss Mitchell, the will power to refuse just one request asked of her.
4. To Mrs. Harper, a sixth period bookkeeping class that will report on time.
5. To Mrs. Sandidge, another Willie Glenn to pester her throughout the entire year.
6. To Miss McPherson, a trig. class whose members can keep up with their books.
7. To Mrs. Butler, a first period history class that will do their homework.
8. To Mrs. Arthur, a piano bench to replace all those rickety chairs.
9. To Mrs. Powell, another Latin class containing such dignified Seniors as those she had this year.
10. To Mrs. McDermott, a class of students that will not ask to be excused so often.
11. To Mrs. Stone, a fourth period class that will not ask to be excused to attend club meetings.
12. To Miss Watts, a bulldozer to level off the athletic field.
13. To Mrs. White, a pair of earmuffs to prevent her hearing the dignified Seniors talking.
14. To Mrs. Fraley, a modern Home Economics cottage with running water throughout the year.

ITEM III

To the Juniors, we will:

1. A special practice period just for Seniors in order that they will not have to be excused from their classes.



CLASS WILL

2. Our faithful and beloved Senior Leaders, Mrs. Martha Davis and Miss Virginia Mitchell.
3. A diploma in June, just as we hope to receive!

To the Sophomores, we will:

1. A faculty of strict disciplinarians, in order that they will know how to act before and after they graduate.
2. The privilege of being honored guests at next year's Junior and Senior Banquet.

To the Freshmen, we will:

1. Padded walls and barred windows to keep them "inside" the school.
2. The carefree manner which the Seniors so constantly and nonchalantly exhibit.

ITEM IV

Special Bequests

1. To Joann Crews, Jean's position on the basketball team.
2. To Phyllis Connelly, some of Marian Carpenter's dignity.
3. To Paul Campbell, some of Buck Hudson's ways with the women.
4. To Carlton Layne, the privilege of ringing the bell next year.
5. To Madeline Floyd and Wendell Overstreet, Betty Abbitt and Clayton Wright, the privilege of competing for next year's Romeo and Juliet.
6. To Sylvia Singleton, some one to take Buck Hudson's place next year.
7. To Gordon Foster, the ability to study like Linwood Coleman and the desire to attend school more often.
8. To N. J. Thomas, Gerald's position on the basketball team.
9. To Curtis Hudson, Glenn Ricketts' athletic ability.
10. To Barbara Linthicum, the privilege of going to town without having to call "Mother" first.
11. To Billy Woody, a special chair in which to sit when he is sent to Mr. Fulcher's office.
12. To Emmett Carson, some of Brockman Mayo's ability to flirt.
13. To Wendell and Clayton, the privilege of competing for next year's "best looking boy."
14. To Barbara Dodd, some of Barbara Layne's height.
15. To any one who writes the will, the privilege of setting his own deadline.
16. To Sherwood Stinnette, some of "Sonny" Robertson's height.
17. To Paul Campbell, Neil Baldwin's position as "Bing Crosby" of M. H. H. S.
18. To Robert Sigmon, some of Wilfred Brown's big mouth.
19. To Elizabeth Bryant, some of Betty Pope's flesh.
20. To the poor souls who write the will next year, the patience that Patsy, Betty, Brockman, and Maynard exhibited.

The Madison Heights Chapter of the Beta Club, a national honor society, is composed of twenty-nine Juniors and Seniors with averages of 90 or above on all high school work. The club endeavors to stimulate interest in academic achievement on the part of the student body, promote school spirit, and encourage the pursuit of higher education after high school graduation. The annual Christmas Banquet, a social highlight for all Betas, was held December 17 at the Lantern Tea Room.

Composed entirely of Junior and Senior boys chosen by popular vote of the former members, the Club has the dual function of developing the individual to his maximum standard and contributing to the support of school projects. The activities of the Club include financing the engraving of the Seniors' diplomas and donating a substantial sum to the Athletic Program. At intervals during the school year, the boys sponsor a movie, a dance, a party, and several other social events.

BASEBALL TEAM

Because of an early publication date, we give you the '47 varsity team pictured above. Fighting and overcoming many handicaps and numerous obstacles, the team stuck together and brought home many victories. Below we picture the prospective team of '48. With the use of many experienced players and some enthusiastic newcomers, we anticipate a great year.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

When basketball practice began November 1, 1947, twenty-five girls answered the call for varsity. Of this number some withdrew because of difficulties involved in attending practice and conflicts with other programs. As the season progressed, further difficulties were encountered; such as, no gym for practice, and exams; fortunately, the latter had little effect.

The girls who worked hard when they were able to practice learned that all members of the team are important, and that playing together is essential. The fundamentals of the game were impressed upon the group, and, although they were not victorious at all times, they played every game with a will to win.

While inexperience and lack of practice were evident at times among the group, composed mostly of underclassmen, the girls enjoyed playing and are anticipating another year of similar experiences but will gladly relinquish the many obstacles coincident with securing a gym, if someone will only wave a Magic Wand and produce one for us.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

After encountering great difficulties in securing a gymnasium for practice, and only partially solving this problem, the team got under way on December 5 with the schedule for the current season. The opening game was played with R. E. Lee Junior High, Madison suffering defeat, despite stubborn resistance.

Rallying from their defeat at the outset and at the same time meeting and conquering innumerable obstacles and handicaps, this enthusiastic group wrote the best athletic history in the annals of the High School.

The team was undefeated in Group II, District IV, Virginia High School League. Such a record is achieved only through wholehearted cooperation, good sportsmanship, and hard work, requirements for any consistently winning team.

The first five selected at the close of the season consisted of Henry Robertson, Glenn Ricketts, Gerald Thomas, John Walker, and Freddy Murray. But without the help of the faithful replacements we could not have seen the season through.
